

INHIBITION OF MAL1

A Method of Diagnosing a Risk of Developing Insulin Resistance

ABSTRACT

The invention provides compositions and methods of inhibiting Mall expression or 10 function to treat lipid metabolisms disorders.

15 TRADOCS:1439502.1(%%Q601!.DOC)

Figure 1. Schematic representation of the experimental design. The subjects were divided into two groups: the control group (CG) and the experimental group (EG). The CG was divided into two subgroups: the control group (CG) and the control group (CG). The EG was divided into two subgroups: the experimental group (EG) and the experimental group (EG). The subjects were divided into two groups: the control group (CG) and the experimental group (EG). The CG was divided into two subgroups: the control group (CG) and the control group (CG). The EG was divided into two subgroups: the experimental group (EG) and the experimental group (EG).